Wood is a natural product, subject to colour, character & grain variations. Mineral streaks, knots, splits, cracks & other imperfections will also be present. These add to the natural character of the product & are not considered defects. Real wood is an organic material, the character will vary from tree to tree & board to board. The process used to fume, smoke &/or stain Silver Grove Collection gives the product its deep rich colours. Because each board will accept the surface treatment differently, we cannot guarantee that the wood floor you order will exactly match this sample board. It is extremely important that boards are selected from multiple cartons & shuffled during the installation process. Moldings should be matched to boards that will enhance the look of the installation before the installation process begins.
