Five layers of genuine hardwood

Armourfloor® hardwood flooring is manufactured in Australia by the Big River Group. Every board is engineered from five layers of Australian eucalypt hardwood sheets bonded together to form a solid, stable floorboard. Each layer has its grain aligned at right-angles to the next, creating an extremely stable structure.

- Face veneer determines species
- All hardwood core (three layers)
- Cross-ply manufacturing process (grain at 90°)
- Back veneer same as face

The special cross-ply manufacturing process creates boards with the genuine beauty of forest timbers but with greater resistance to shrinkage than solid timber boards. Armourfloor® hardwood flooring remains stable in air-conditioned environments, over heated slabs and adjacent to patio doors and floor-to-ceiling windows.
